

Social media providers to ID fake news headlines: Home in Rajasthan

'Law & Order State Issue, But Centre Can't Remain Silent'

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

New Delhi: Home minister Rajnath Singh told the Lok Sabha on Thursday that the ministry had asked social media service providers to identify headlines spreading fake news, which were responsible for recent incidents of mob violence.

Rajnath Singh said several people had been killed by mobs across the country and it was a matter of grave concern.

Strangled dad tries to claim son, thrashed

Mandya: A family dispute in a small village here, involving a couple and their two children, spun out of control on social media amid a nationwide paranoia over child-lifters. Angry villagers turned on the father after he was said to have seduced and tried to forcibly take away one of his children. Videos of the wrathful surfaced on social media, erroneously saying villagers tried to assault the man, mistaking him for a child-lifter.

Fortunately, matters ended when the mother of the children rushed to the spot, pacified the crowd and took the children to her retreat. In earlier instances of lynching across the country, rumours travelled across villages on WhatsApp, instigating crowds to stop vehicles and attack the occupants, mostly outsiders, without verifying what were mere suspicions.

Govt may sue WhatsApp for abetting lynchings

New Delhi: The government on Thursday warned WhatsApp that failure to contain fake news — which has led to incidents of lynching across many states — makes the messaging platform an "abetter" in the crime which could lead to "consequent legal action".

WhatsApp has been requested to come out with more effective solutions that can bring in accountability warning to the company.

The latest advisory to WhatsApp follows a fresh incident in Bihar in Kamnaka where a 22-year-old software engineer, Mohan Azam, was killed after rumours went viral on WhatsApp branding him a part of a child-lifter gang.

addressed adequately by WhatsApp," the ministry said.

The ministry said that WhatsApp cannot evade its responsibility in any manner. "Reports in the media resonate the general sentiment that there is much more that needs to be done by WhatsApp. There is a need for bringing in traceability and accountability when a provocative/inflammatory message is detected and a request is made by law-enforcement agencies. When rumours and fake news get propagated by mischievous users, the medium used for such propagation cannot evade responsibility and accountability," the government said.

Digital volunteers to curb UP social media rumours

Lucknow: Amid growing concern over the increasing incidence of mob lynching which have been largely attributed to rumours on social media, the UP police have launched a special campaign to rope in digital volunteers at the police station level to nip the menace in the bud.

At least two digital volunteers will be attached to each of the 1,499 police stations across the state. These digital volunteers at the forefront of the unverified local news and rumours being circulated on the social media for timely preventive measures.

14 DIE AS BUS FALLS INTO UTTARAKHAND GORGE

Rescuers haul up an injured passenger after an Uttarakhand state-run bus plunged into a 250-metre-deep gorge around 8am on Thursday. The bus which was carrying 31 passengers and was headed for Haridwar, met with the accident on Rishikesh-Gangotri NH-108, 15km from Chamba (Telvri district).

While 14 people died in the accident, 17 were injured. 14 of the injured are critical.

CAUSE OF ACCIDENT The bus was unlit on a hilly route. Its axle broke and the front wheel came off after it hit construction material on the roadside, said a senior Uttarakhand Transport Corporation official.

SECOND TRAGEDY THIS MONTH On July 1, 48 people died near Dhumakot in Pauri district when the heavily overcrowded bus they were travelling in fell into a gorge, after hitting a massive pothole.

New ₹100 note will be first fully indigenous currency

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

Mumbai: The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) has released a new ₹100 denomination banknote in the Mahatma Gandhi series with Swachh Bharat logo in lavender colour. This is the first fully indigenous note made of entirely domestic materials.

The new note will have a different dimension from the existing ₹100 note, which means that it will not be available in ATMs until the machines are recalibrated. The RBI said that an ATM to dispense four types of notes, I think banks will wait for enough new notes to be in circulation before recalibrating the machines," said Nitay-ro Dastur, MD for India and South Asia at NCR Corporation, the largest supplier of machines in India.

OLD LEGAL TOOL The ₹78m x 157mm. Banks cannot interchange the ₹200 cassette for the new ₹100 as the ₹200 note has a dimension of 68m x 148mm. The new banknote, bearing the signature of RBI Governor Urjit K. Patel, has a motif of Gupta's 'Rani Ki Vas' on the reverse, depicting the country's cultural heritage. The base colour of the note is lavender and it contains other designs and geometric patterns, aligning with the overall colour scheme, both on the obverse and reverse.

After ITBP's horse whisperer dies, animals he cared for refuse to eat

Ajay Sura @timesgrop.com

Chandigarh: A day after their trainer and caregiver sub-inspector Mangal Singh died, the horses of the Indo-Tibetan Border Police refused to eat. Singh had a special bond with the animals, which he had been grooming for the last two years, his colleagues said.

A BEST FRIEND GONE: An ITBP personnel consoles one of the dogs from the K9 squad of which Mangal Singh was the commander.

the animals had "lost their best friend" and ITBP lost a great soldier who had played an important role during his posting at Kabul between 2013 and 2016. "He was an inspiration for the troops and will always be remembered for his role in Kabul," Natarajan said.

Singh was the K9 (ITBP's dog squad) commander at the Indian embassy in Kabul from 2013 to 2016. His explosive detector, AT-5, Lohitpur, is the only school in the north-east that trains animals for border logistics along the Line of Actual Control (LAC) with China. It also trains troops to ride for high-altitude patrolling. Troops of friendly nations are also trained at AT-5.

Thieves who targeted PM rallies and Mumbai Bieber concert held

Sidharth Bhardwaj @timesgrop.com

New Delhi: From the PM's rallies to the Puri Rath Yatra; Justin Bieber's concert in Mumbai to the auto expo in Greater Noida, this group of six men didn't want to miss a single mega event in the country. Their passion for the crowds, however, had a dark motivation - the men stole wallets, smartphones and valuables at these events.

The gang's kingpin told cops he got the idea of targeting big events while watching a concert on television, where a large crowd of young people were flashing high-end mobile phones. Police claimed Aslam had so far stolen more than 5,000 phones.
